

What Do Attorneys Do?

1. A statement or series of statements for or against something.
2. A person who sues another person or accuses another person of a crime in a court of law.
3. A person who is being sued or accused of a crime in a court of law.
4. A formal discussion between people who are trying to reach an agreement.
5. The power or right to make judgments about the law, to arrest and punish criminals, etc. You might use this term to fill in this sentence: "This case comes under the _____ of the local police."
6. The qualities that a person is expected to have as a responsible member of a community.
7. The rule that a legal case must be done in a way that protect the rights of all the people involved.
8. A group of people who are members of the public and are chosen to make a decision in a legal case.

What Do Attorneys Do?

1. A statement or series of statements for or against something.
2. A person who sues another person or accuses another person of a crime in a court of law.
3. A person who is being sued or accused of a crime in a court of law.
4. A formal discussion between people who are trying to reach an agreement.
5. The power or right to make judgments about the law, to arrest and punish criminals, etc. You might use this term to fill in this sentence: "This case comes under the _____ of the local police."
6. The qualities that a person is expected to have as a responsible member of a community.
7. The rule that a legal case must be done in a way that protect the rights of all the people involved.
8. A group of people who are members of the public and are chosen to make a decision in a legal case.